Coding Assignment 4

- Task: This assignment is about the basics of linear regression. You will need to figure out how to make the algorithm working on our toy data in the python notebook file. You may edit any part of the given code as you want, but at the end you are expected to fit the right line just as demonstrated in the figure.